[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, VA., April 8.—Everybody today is talking about the action of the Council last night on the petition of citizens to close the saloons from 7 P. M. to 6 A. M. The saloon-men are much disgruntled at the Council's action, and the temperance people are by means satisfied with the result. The petition was signed by more than six hundred people, representing largely the property and intelligence of the community, and when the Council met last night a number of citizens and several preachers were present. The committee reported in favor of closing the saloons from 10 o'clock P. M. to 5 o'clock A. M., one member dissenting and bringing in a minority report recommending that the petition be granted and that the saloons be closed at 7 P. M. in whiter and 8 o'clock in summet.

The rules of the Council were suspended and clizens were invited to speak. A number of sitzens and all the preachers present addressed the Council, and a strong pressure was brought to bear on the members, but half of them stood out for the majority report and about midnight a vote was taken. The minerity report was rejected by an even vote, and the majority report to close the salcons at 10 c'clock was then adopted. The crimance will so into effect after May 1st. The temperance people have succeeded in having the bar-room heenses increased nearly 50 per cent, and in shortening the hours within which the salcons shall do business. Some of them regard this as a victory, though it is far abort of what they asked for.

Mr. Porter in the South.

[Baltimore Sun.]

A party of northern and western gentlemen of prominence arrived in Knoxville, Tenn., a few days ago on a prospecting tour. Mr. Robert P. Porter, superintendent of the United States census, who is one of the party, being asked what brought them South, quickly responded, "The South's industrial development; that's what brings us here." Continuing, Mr. Porter said:
"Why, the South's progress is marvellens.

Mr. Porter said:

"Why, the South's progress is marvellous. Just think of it. The South is to-day producing as much pig-iron as the entire country did in 1870. The next step is steel. I believe that the next ten pears will show as much relative growth of the steel production of the South as the past has shown in the production of pigiron. The census has startled me in the enormous growth of the South in every respect. These statistics are correct. Take the coal production of Alabama. In 1880 the production was 350,000 tons; in 1890 it was 3,500,000. Cotton-factories have more than doubled. Now, do you understand me when I say that the industrial growth of the South is what brings us here?"
